

What is it like to be psychic? How can psychics communicate with unseen entities and bring helpful insights to people? What do psychics know about life, death, and the afterlife? The Psychics Speak series presents conversations with professional psychic readers, intuitives, and energy workers. In their own words, the psychics talk about their lives and their ability to communicate with the other side. This interview is with Kermie Wohlenhaus. Kermie studies angels. She also works with clients to bring angelic messages to them and to teach them to communicate with their angels. She has an academic background in angel studies, along with direct spiritual experience. Kermie has authored several books about angels and is writing new books based on her intuitive experiences with the Virgin Mary. In this interview, Kermie talks about what she sees and hears when working with angels. She explains that everyone has a Guardian Angel which is with them from before birth, through life, and through the transition at death. Additional angels also work with each person. Everything has an angel. Every blade of grass has an angel. Every relationship has an angel. There are angels over co-workers, friendships, parents, and children. Angels are ecstatic when people are fulfilling their life purpose. Kermie wants people to know that angels are for everyone, and everyone can talk to them. Everyone. We all have the capacity to talk to our spirit helpers, angels, and loved ones on the other side.
